CONVENTION AND TICKET.

It was a splendid convention, representatives not only of the Republican party but of the business interests and the push and enterprise and ambition of Iola. And it nominated a splendid ticket.

William Knapp, the nominee for city clerk, has held that office during the past year and has fulfilled its duties in a manner above criticism. He has given the office his entire time and has been active, faithful and efficient. It goes without saying that he will be re-elected.

John Harris was nominated by acclamation for street commissioner, and he deserved the honor. It is no derogation of other good men who have held that position to say that Mr. Harris is the best street commissioner Iola ever had, and the people have wisely determined to retain his services.

Another unanimous nomination, equally deserved, was that of Mr. Travis Morse for city attorney. The fact that Mr. Morse, although a rock-ribbed Republican was nominated, without request on his part, by the "Citizens" convention, is evidence that it was not thought worth while to put up a candidate against him. Mr. Morse is regarded by his brethren of the bar as one of the best lawyers in Iola, and the legal interests of the city will be safe in his hands.

The nomination of A. E. Wright, as city assessor, was a foregone conclusion. Mr. Wright's good business sense, his good common sense, his honest and long experience, make him a most valuable man to fill this difficult office, and the people will no doubt re-elect him by a large majority.

Mr. D. H. Brewer who was renominated for marshal, has served in that capacity for the past year. He has made some enemies of course, as any man doing his duty in that office could not fail to do. But it is the general opinion that he has done his work well, and his election is conceded.

There was an interesting contest over the selection of a candidate for police judge, three good men being proposed. The selection on the second ballot of J. C. Coffield is one that will give general satisfaction. Mr. Coffield is an old soldier and an old citizen. He served two terms with credit as register of deeds. He has a high idea of the duties and responsibilities of a judicial officer, he has a head of his own and a fund of common sense, all of which give assurance that he will enforce the law with firmness, fairness and impartiality.

These nominations taken together with those made by the ward caucuses, constitute one of the best tickets ever presented for the suffrage of the citizens of Iola. It is a straight Republican ticket, and it is also a representative ticket, representative of the good sense, the good conscience and the good business that should control, and that after the third of April will control, the public affairs of this city.

Taken For a Tramp

It is seldom that the vanity of young manhood gets such a knock-out blow squarely on the solar plexus as Will McClure received this morning. He is gas inspector and has to crawl around cellars and between floors and ceilings where the rats claim sovereignty so much that he is compelled to wear old clothes. This morning he went up on north Jefferson avenue to make an inspection and as he went around the house he saw women peering timidly at him. He knocked loudly and several times before his summons was answered and when he stated that he wanted to work on the gas pipes—the lady of the house sighed a huge sigh of relief. She frankly told him that she had been troubled with tramps so much that she took McClure for a tramp.

The REGISTER has been in the secret for some time, but above all things it dislikes to see the papers give weddings or anything else away before the contractors have finished. It is understood they will live down on south Washington in Iola and the headlines will read something like this: Taylor—Harkness.

"Out of the Mouths of Babies."

The tendency of editors of papers is so generally toward conceit and pride hat now and then to counteract it a story is picked up and sent on its rounds. Here is a recent article from the Princeton Record, being an essay on "Newspapers," written by a 12-year-old boy:

"Newspapers are sheets of paper on which stuff to read is printed. The men look over the paper to see if their names is in it and the women use it to put on shelves and such. I don't know how newspapers came into the world. I don't think God does. The Bible says nothing about editors and I never heard of one being in heaven. I guess the editors is the missing link them fellers talk about. The first editor I ever heard of was the fellow who wrote up the flood. He has been here ever since. Some editors belong to church and some try to raise whiskers. All of them raise hell in their neighborhood and all of them are liars, at least all I know, and I only know one. Editors never die. At least I never saw a dead one. Sometimes the paper dies and the people feel good, but someone starts it up again. Editors never went to school because editors never get licked. Our paper is a mighty poor one, but we take it so ma can use it on our pantry shelves. Our editor don't amount to much, but paw says he had a poor chance when he was a boy. He goes without underclothes in winter, wears no socks and has a wife to support him. Paw hasn't paid his subscription in five years and don't intend to."

Death From Heart Failure.

Word came to town last Saturday that Mrs. Hugh Coffey, living five miles northwest of Moran, had been suddenly stricken by death while apparently in excellent health yesterday afternoon. She was as well as usual during the day and at the time of the stroke was engaged in sewing carpet rags. It is supposed that her death is due to heart failure. Her husband and three children survive her and to them the deep sympathy of all their friends goes out. Mrs. Coffey was a sister of the Messers Feiler, of the Iola Business College, and they went out to the farm today.

Lingering La Grippe Cough.

Women Wonder Why

They are doomed to so much suffering. But are they doomed? Is not the suffering the result of conditions which under skillful treatment might be entirely cured? Thousands of women who had been great sufferers, have learned that suffering was unnecessary after using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It heals diseases of the delicate womanly organs and banishes the headache, backache and other aches which are the consequence of these diseases.

"Favorite Prescription" is absolutely a temperance medicine in the strictest meaning of the term. It contains no alcohol and is free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

"I write you for advice February 4th, 1896," writes Mrs. Loma Halstead, of Claremore, Cherokee Nat., Ind. "I was racking with pain from the back of my head down to my heels. Had hemorrhage for weeks at a time, and was unable to sit up for ten minutes at a time. You answered my letter, advised me to use your valuable medicine, viz. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and Pleasant Pellets, also gave advice about injections, baths and diet. To my surprise, in four months from the time I began your treatment I was a well woman and have not had the headache since, and now I put in sixteen hours a day at hard work."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The delegations chosen by the ward caucuses met at the court house Friday in convention to fill the remaining places on the ticket. Major Foust was chosen chairman and A. P. Harris secretary and the business of the meeting progressed swiftly and harmoniously. The order of business was as made in the call and balloting by wards, for city clerk began.

William Knapp, Orville Williams and Ed Pizel were proposed, but Mr. Williams withdrew. The first ballot stood: Knapp 32, Pizel 5, Williams 3. Mr. Knapp was declared the nominee.

Mr. Ewing nominated Travis Morse for city attorney and the choice was carried unanimously.

A. E. Wright was chosen for city assessor in the same manner. For city marshal three names were mentioned, D. H. Brewer, Harry Brister and T. T. Anderson. Mr. Brister and Mr. Anderson both withdrew and so without balloting the nomination was made unanimous.

For street commissioner John H. Harris, the present incumbent was asked to remain in charge. There was a little more fun in choosing a police judge. J. H. Wilson, John Walters and Clark Coffield were placed in nomination and the first ballot stood thus: Coffield 16, Walters 11, Wilson 13. A second ballot resulted as follows: Coffield 24, Walters 7, and Wilson 9, and Mr. Coffield was made the unanimous nominee.

Each ward then chose three members of the city Republican Central Committee, which hereafter is to be an organization separate from the county committee, as follows: First ward—C. C. Ausherman, L. L. Northrup and E. C. Remsburg; Second ward—John Porter, W. C. Teats and Jacob Gard; Third ward—Oscar Foust, Sam Gard and C. L. Whitaker; Fourth ward—C. Kreuter, Harry Thomas and Frank Travis.

The convention then ratified the ward nominees and adjourned.

An Allen County Prize Winner.
FT. SCOTT, Kans., Feb. 7, 1900.
Office of W. C. Gunn, Real Estate Co.
E. D. Kramer, Esq., LaHarpe, Kas.
Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find draft for $10, the amount of premium offered by us for sugar beet for the second highest test. Mr. Hunley, living about 11 miles south of Ft. Scott, received the first prize, and Mr. Basham, living two miles north of town, the third prize.

We are still hoping to run the mill as a beet sugar mill but won't know definitely for probably a month yet. Should we succeed we would like much to have you and your neighbors put out as large an acreage as you think you could possibly take care of. The profits from a fair field of sugar beets per acre is larger than most any other known crop. We are glad that you came in for one of the prizes.

With best wishes we beg to remain,
Yours truly,
W. C. GUNN.

The foregoing letter explains itself and will be read with much interest by Allen county people who will be glad to know that this county is capable of producing sugar beets that compare favorably with those grown in any other part of the State. Mr. Kramer is an enthusiast in the matter of sugar beet culture. He says he knows land in Nebraska that could have been bought a short time ago for $5.00 an acre that is now held at $75, just because it has become known that it will profitably grow sugar beets. And he thinks Allen county can do just as well as Nebraska. He intends to keep on with his experiments, and the REGISTER will report the results of them from time to time, wishing him all kinds of good luck.

SITUATION IN CUBA.

The Work of the Almoners of the Industrial Relief Fund.

OPPOSITION TO BISHOP SBARRETTI.

A Committee Appointed to Inform the Bishop of the Wishes of the Cuban People—Looking Out for the Plague.

Havann, March 12.—Herbert Allen and Horace Barnes, almoners of the Cuban Industrial Relief fund, which for about a year has been operating relief farms near Cienba and Mocha, furnishing work for many of the victims of reconcentration, have just returned to Matanzas after distributing 58 work oxen among small farmers. They were received by Gen. Wilson, military governor of the department, who conferred with them regarding their undertakings and expressed cordial approval of this method of reconstructing Cuba. Gen. Wilson, who urged them strongly to continue, has always been an advocate of government aid in supplying cattle to deserving farmers, failing which in his judgment the bankers or charitable institutions should take the matter in hand.

El Diario de la Marina, discussing agricultural developments, says: "A possible solution of the question of mortgaged property would be to allow the holders of mortgages to administer the properties until they had paid themselves off, and then to have the properties returned to the mortgagees. Failing this, the law should take its course, so that the land may come into the hands of those having sufficient money to work it. As Cuba is supported almost entirely by customs dues, and as the potentiality of Cuba to pay these dues rests upon what the soil produces—Cuba being entirely agricultural—it is of vital necessity to stimulate agricultural reconstruction."

Comparatively few people attended yesterday's meeting to protest against the appointment of Monsignor Sbarretti to the bishopric of Havana. A committee of four, including Gen. Maximo Gomez, was appointed to visit the bishop and to inform him respectfully of the wishes of the Cuban people. It was urged that it would be better to take this course on the chance that Monsignor Sbarretti would express a willingness to resign, and thus save the work of organizing some 40 sub-committees of protest from the various parts of the diocese, as was originally proposed.

A resolution was offered advocating that a protest be sent direct to the pope and that nothing further be done until his answer had been received, but this was negated by a large majority, it being argued that the movement might grow cold were the agitation to be dropped for six weeks, the time it was estimated would be required to get a reply from Rome.

A representative of the popular committee of protest, who was present, said that general manifestations in opposition to the appointment were about to be made in the provinces of Matanzas and Santa Clara on the day after the landing of Monsignor Sbarretti, but that the letter which Gen. Gomez published in the Havana papers was telegraphed to many towns and had the effect of deterring the intending demonstrations.

The marine hospital service is keeping a special lookout for cases of bubonic plague which might reach Havana on incoming steamers. All vessels from Mexico are rigidly inspected. As yet there is no confirmation of the report of a case of the plague on the steamer Yucatan, from Vera Cruz.

Secretary of War Root was busy all the morning receiving the heads of the various departments of government and conferring with them. Collector Bliss, Maj. Ladd, Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Chaffee and some members of Secretary Root's party visited Morro castle and Cabanas fortress.

THE FALSE GUIDE.

Gen. Gatacre Shot Him Through the Body Before He Could Escap.

A letter from a corporal in the Second Northumberland fusiliers gives some graphic details in regard to the disaster at Stormberg, says the New York Post. He says:

"On the night of the 9th our regiment, the royal Irish rifles, two batteries of artillery and the mounted infantry proceeded from Pleterskrall to Molteno, a distance of ten miles. When we arrived it was about nine o'clock, and then we all formed up and Gen. Gatacre informed us that he was going to do a night attack on the Boers' position at Stormberg, and that there was to be no firing and no shouting, and to use the bayonet only. We started off at ten o'clock to march 13 miles to Stormberg, where we hoped to arrive about two o'clock in the morning. We kept marching all night, but never got there. It was broad daylight when we were at the foot of some high, inaccessible rocks, when the guide we had turned to the general and, pointing to the top of the rocks, said: 'There is your position and there is your enemy,' and immediately started to gallop off. But before he had gone two yards Gen. Gatacre shot him twice through the body, saying: 'Man, you have done me, but you are the first to go.' Those are the exact words that were said, because we were told by the general's orderly.

"When the general saw how we were trapped he cried like a child, and said: 'Oh, my poor boys, what have I done?'—so the general's aid-de-camp told an officer."

CATARRH

Is nothing more nor less than a continuous cold in the head, an inflammation and thickening of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. The longer it continues the more aggravated it becomes—eventually turning into consumption. Catarrh is a local trouble and drugging the stomach with all the internal catarrh remedies on earth will not relieve or cure it. In using the right principle is followed. The remedy is applied at once to the seat of the trouble. It cures by inhalation. The medicated air attacks at once the inflamed and congested membranes, softens the mucus and reduces them to their normal state. All the air passages are instantly cleared, cleansed and purified and the daily use of DR. GEO. LEININGER'S FORMALDEHYDE INHALER will prove an infallible cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Catarrhal Deafness, or Any Form of Nose, Throat, or Lung Trouble.

DR. GEO. LEININGER'S
